

Fruit Growers Discuss Problems

Penn State Specialists Here Monday To Assist Local Growers

Lawrence county fruit growers had a discussion of the various problems which best the fruit grower, at the annual Lawrence County Fruit Day program, conducted in the Y. M. C. A. Monday, with morning and afternoon programs.

The morning session, a number of local growers and discussed various phases of growing fruit. Among them were Lauren Thompson and Rankin Johnson, of Wilmington township; Carl Baldwin, of R. F. D. No. 4, and A. F. Arnold of Enoch Valley.

J. U. Ruff, extension pomologist, of Penn State college, gave an interesting talk on orchard management. He stated that Lawrence county was very favorably situated both as to climate and proximity to market for fruit growing.

Henry Menusan and Allen H. Bauer, also of the extension department, discussed the control of various insects and diseases affecting orchards. The necessity of spraying several times a season, particularly for apples and peaches was stressed. It was pointed out that only berries and grapes are satisfactorily growing unless the person is willing to take the time to spray according to schedule.

Subscriptions Are Being Taken To Relieve Family Stricken By Fire

To help relieve the distress of the family of John W. Sweeney of 501 Division street, whose three children died when fire swept their home early Saturday morning, subscriptions are being taken by Mrs. Mamie Ryan at Beck's Floral shop, 15 S. Jefferson street.

Mr. Sweeney, it is stated, had only recently returned to New Castle from Grove City, and had just secured a job at the United Engineering & Foundry company. He is lame from a childhood ailment to his leg, which has necessitated numerous operations, it is said, and the family was just getting back on its feet when the disaster occurred.

Mrs. Sweeney is undergoing treatment in the New Castle hospital for serious burns she received in escaping from the flame-swept home.

SON-IN-LAW DIES
Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards of West Washington street, have returned from Bradford where they were called by the death of their son-in-law, Herbert Smith. He leaves his wife and a daughter Lois.

BOLIVIA TARGET OF DIPLOMATIC OFFENSIVE

to withhold recognition of the new Bolivian regime, but it called home Pierre Boal, the American ambassador in La Paz. There is reason to believe the state department will not send Boal or any other American ambassador back to Bolivia until there is a new government there.

In announcing its diplomatic action, the state department referred to the new regime in Bolivia not as government but as a "revolutionary junta."

Work of Axis

One of the chief reasons for the grave concern felt over the present situation in South America is the conviction of the allied American movement centered in Argentina. In an official memorandum submitted to the Pan-American emergency committee for political defense, the United States government charged that the Axis is using Argentina "as the base of its espionage and sabotage activities against all the American nations."

"It has been established," the memorandum said, "that from this base of operation the Germans have spread the net of their subversive organizations to at least ten American countries."

"As a result of their work a large number of American lives, considerable American property, and the lives and property of the citizens and countries of the United Nations which are engaged in the struggle against the totalitarian powers have been lost."

Great Britain Joins

London, Jan. 25.—Great Britain today joined the United States in refusing to recognize the revolutionary regime in Bolivia.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced in the House of Commons that his majesty's government cannot recognize the newly-constituted Bolivian government.

Brazil, Peru and Venezuela also declared they could not grant recognition.

"His majesty's government does not recognize the junta in Bolivia as a legal government and the British minister designate will not proceed to take up his post," Eden said.

ARGENTINA WILL BREAK WITH AXIS SAYS NEW REPORT

fact that the United States and other Allied-American governments were definitely preparing to resort to strong diplomatic and economic action against Argentina. This results from evidence that Argentine Nationalists were plotting to set up a block of military dictators in South America.

The Argentine government not only had failed to carry out the promise made at the Rio conference to break with the Axis, but Argentina Nationalists were known to be the central figures in what the United States Government denounced yesterday as a "general subversive movement hostile to the Allied cause."

The Argentine government's sudden assurances to the United States and Britain that it will carry out its obligations without further delay are thought to be aimed at diverting the threatened reprisal action by the other American republics.

FIFTH ARMY CONTINUES TO PUSH INLAND

night, but all were repulsed. Since then the counter-thrusts have become less frequent and it is believed the Germans may be gradually withdrawing their forces to meet the growing Allied threat to Rome.

Ferocious Nazi Attacks
British troops operating in the Garigliano area testified to ferocity of the enemy attacks. One veteran of the last war said he saw more dead Germans in the vicinity of Minturno than he ever witnessed on the Somme. The 94th German infantry division is estimated to have lost 50 per cent of its combat strength.

On the Eighth Army Adriatic front, considerable enemy movement was observed. Allied mortars fired into the enemy position and explosions were heard in the rear. The Germans were believed constructing strong defensive positions in this area.

The weather over the entire front remained cloudy.

Headquarters disclosed that the Nazis were withdrawing some troops from the embattled Gustav line front 60 miles below the beachheads to meet the growing threat to Rome.

Repulse Counter-Attacks
The communique said all of the bitter Nazi counter-attacks on the front along the Garigliano river from the Tyrrhenian sea coast to Cassino had been repulsed and that new advances were scored by the Allies.

At two points the Fifth Army on this front made headway against determined German opposition.

(In New York, the OWI quoted the Geneva newspaper La Suisse as reporting that Fascist sources have admitted that Allied forces have occupied the entire Italian coast from Nettuno to the mouth of the Tiber. Ostia, three miles inland from the river's mouth is "already threatened," the paper asserted.)

The fact that the recently won port of Anzio now may be shelled only by super long-range guns was viewed as a concrete indication of the extent of the Allied drive inland. At last reports only odd shells from 170-millimeter guns firing from about 10 miles away were dropping into the harbor city.

Meanwhile, the landing of essential supplies continued without interruption except for an occasional enemy shell. Enemy opposition came mainly from what appeared to be hastily-organized battle groups.

New York, Jan. 25.—(INS)— Allied invasion forces, widening their beachheads on western Italy, were reported today by the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio to be in possession of the town of Littoria, 13 miles south of Nettuno at a point four miles inland from the coast.

The broadcast reported to the OWI, said that units striking northward from Anzio have etched out gains of "five and six miles" toward Rome after throwing back an enemy counter-attack in which "many prisoners were taken."

NO RESPITE IN FRENCH COAST AERIAL ATTACK

continent was seen in the fact that several areas in Switzerland were alerted.

The air ministry made no immediate announcement of night action by Britain-based aircraft but reports by way of Stockholm said that Hungary underwent an assault.

Hit Western Hungary
The Stockholm newspaper Morgen Tidningen carried a report from Budapest asserting that allied bombers during the night attacked two unidentified places in the vicinity of Zalaegerszeg in western Hungary.

The Nazi agency DNB reported a noon raid yesterday on the frequently-bombed Bulgarian capital of Sofia. The attack, according to DNB, was carried out by fighter-escorted American bombers.

A joint communique by headquarters of the United States eighth air force and the British air ministry, meanwhile disclosed that 21 Nazi planes were destroyed in yesterday's daylight attack on western Germany.

Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs, carried out the assault. Two of the intercepting Nazi craft were downed by heavy bombers in aerial combat while the American fighters got 16. On the allied side two heavy bombers, a fighter-bomber and 10 fighters were reported missing.

Northern France again was brought under assault by both American medium bombers and medium craft of the RAF.

JAP AIR ARM IN PACIFIC HIT HEAVILY AGAIN

Two others were marked down as probables. The allies lost six craft. The bombers scored numerous hits on the Lekunai runway and started large fires.

Both heavy and medium bomber units from the Solomons hit the town area of Rabaul at night and started blazes visible for 75 miles.

Night patrols were active, too, in the Wewak area where they hit a Jap destroyer and started a fire amidships.

Australian jungle fighters continuing their march through the Ramu valley of northeastern New Guinea were reported driving the Japs from all positions in the Shaggy Ridge area. Headquarters announced the capture of field artillery and much ammunition.

Along the Rai coast allied air patrols maintained sweeps against enemy barge concentrations, destroying three barges at Marakum. Attack planes blasted the coastal villages and trails from Bonga to Gali. Jap barges were also damaged at Uligan. At Madang heavy bombers blasted the Amale mission.

On the ground in New Britain, American marines east of Cape Gloucester in the Bogan Bay area ranged forward into Jap-held territory. Attack planes supported the ground units and strafed Jap positions at Natamo.

C. D. Of A. Court Conducts Session

Special Meeting Called For Discussion; Followed By Monthly Social Event

A special meeting was conducted briefly prior to the regular social meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa Irene No. 231, Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock in St. Mary's auditorium.

Reports were heard from various committees. The C. D. of A. plans to join the Catholic Welfare Conference, and this was discussed by the group. It was also decided to combine the two C. D. of A. meetings held every month, and to have one meeting on the last Thursday of the month. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock, and business will precede the social period of the meeting.

Contests were featured after the business, high score prizes going to Margaret Carney and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo.

Lecturer Mrs. Catherine Carney was in charge. Dainty refreshments were served.

February 24 at 8 o'clock is the next meeting.

SEE BENEFIT OF ITALIAN LANDING

Italy is that American-British forces are now turning their attention to the Mediterranean coast of France as a point where pressure is to be applied in concert with the coming great amphibious thrust from Britain.

North Africa, Sicily, Sardinia and Southern Italy were taken as necessary strategic moves for the opening of the Mediterranean to Allied shipping. Italy north of Rome and Corsica, on the other hand, belong to the strategic picture of continental Europe. Corsica is already in Allied hands. Now they seem on the Italian coast from Genoa to the French frontier would enable the Nazis to flank an amphibious invasion of Mediterranean France.

Apparently Allied Mediterranean armies of Gen. Sir Henry M. Wilson intend to wipe them out before the battle for France begins.

Third Objective
Third objective of the renewed Italian campaign is better bases for bombers in the war on Germany. Air bases on the portion of the Italian peninsula already in Allied hands are more than 1,000 miles from London. The conquest of bases in the Milan area of Italy would put Allied landing fields within about 600 miles of Britain, about 500 miles of Berlin and approximately 400 miles from Düsseldorf in the Ruhr. Bombers shuttling between Britain and Italy could bomb all Germany with maximum efficiency.

These are the ultimate stakes for which the Allies are playing in their amphibious landing. Today's dispatches describe American-British forces as striking inland for Nazi vital communications. Principal obstacle is the marshy ground. Crisis in the operation will come within the next few days when the expected Nazi counter attacks are launched.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the Navy Dept.

GERMAN TROOPS IN LENINGRAD AREA IN RETREAT

Official bulletin, "under threat of encirclement, are retreating hurriedly, suffering heavy losses in manpower and equipment."

The railway junction of Sabino just north of Tosno, was taken by the Russians in a violent battle during which more than a battalion of German infantry was "wiped out" and considerable booty seized.

Rail Junction Points
Both Pushkin and Pavlovsk standing but four miles apart, are at junction points of railways converging on Leningrad. Their capture came almost simultaneously with a brilliant Russian gain, the severance of the vitally important Krasnovodsk-Narva-Italian railroad. The latter towns are within Estonia, the border of which is about 35 miles from Leningrad.

Some 1,500 German officers and men were slain in the fighting which resulted in cutting of this rail line, and much booty was taken.

In the Novgorod sector, some 100 miles south of Leningrad, the Red army continued its advance, capturing several important towns and completely clearing the enemy "from the peninsula between Lake Ilmen and the Vervazha river."

Preparing Great Retreat
(A Stockholm dispatch, citing a report from Berlin to the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter said the Germans are preparing a "great retreat" in the Leningrad area.)

The retreat strategy used in south Russia undoubtedly will characterize the development in the north," said the article. "There is no danger that the Germans will be unable to evacuate strategically important ground while keeping the defense moving and sparing troops and materials for the last decisive fight."

FAITH
ANOTHER STEP TOWARDS DICTATORSHIP
Why should our boys be dying on foreign lands for freedom, when our bureaucrats at Washington are planning bills to take away our freedom? We refer to the Wagner Bill to socialize one of the greatest professions today that of the Medical profession.

Every voter should send a telegram to his representative in Washington, against this bill. One can hardly conceive of a bill that would take away the freedom of American people, and of the hard-working, highly educated Medical profession.

This is just one step, and if it goes over, no one knows what the next one will be. Maybe the grocer, dry goods man or some other freedom. Wake up America, before we become slaves!

This bill is known as Senate Bill No. 1181, and if passed, it is estimated that it will cost the taxpayers anywhere from twelve to twenty billion dollars a year.

CLARISSA DUFF SETS

MARCH WEDDING DATE

Miss Clarissa Jane Duff has announced March 4 as the date when she will be married to Chaplain John Earl Myers, Jr., captain in the army of the United States.

Announcement of the wedding date was made at an evening bride-shower party given for her by Mrs. Paul H. Wilson and Mrs. James R. Green at Mrs. Wilson's home on Highland avenue.

Four tables of contract bridge were in play at the party with prizes going to Miss Dorothy Young, Miss Kathryn Boston, and Miss Grace Dodson.

Miss Duff received a number of lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature. Refreshments were served at the end of the evening. Mrs. James E. Chambers and Mrs. E. V. Martin were aides.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Duff of 409 Summer avenue. She has been a member of the New Castle high school faculty and was advisor of the January division of the class of 1944 which was graduated a week ago.

Chaplain Myers, who was pastor of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church here before entering the army chaplain corps, is stationed at Topeka, Kan. He is the son of Mrs. J. E. Myers, of Pittsburgh.

MEETS AT CATHEDRAL

Mrs. Olive Hewitt, District Deputy Grand Matron of District 2B was a special guest of New Castle Chapter No. 105, Order of the Eastern Star when members in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral building on Monday evening.

Worthy Matron Mrs. Idylle Wimer and Worthy Patron Henry Jackson presided over the meeting during the conferring of degrees and the regular business of the chapter.

Music was contributed by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Anna Pyle, with Mrs. Helen Fitch, Mrs. Elizabeth Strimater, and Miss Ruth Weir offering solos.

Lunch was served by a committee of which Mrs. Edith Pearce was chairman. Winter decorations on the tables were the work of Mrs. Florence Long.

HADASSAH CHAPTER

MEETING TONIGHT

Members of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah will have their meeting at the home of Mrs. L. F. Kohn, 415 Park avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock, instead of at Temple Israel synagogue, as scheduled in the year book.

Mrs. Peter Cohen will be in charge of the program, and the following are hostesses: Mrs. J. Silverman, Mrs. Sam Levine, Mrs. Abe Levine, Mrs. Nate Love, Mrs. Abe Goldman, Mrs. A. Gonic, Mrs. D. Silverman and Mrs. L. F. Kohn.

Dinner Honors President

Service Star Legion, Inc., had a dinner recently in honor of their president, Mrs. Jessie Crooks, in the Legion Home.

The singing of "America", followed by "Happy Birthday", opened the evening's activities. Mrs. Fanny Woolley, chaplain, offered the blessing. Dinner was served by Mrs. Minnie Nicholson, Mrs. Ethel Murphy, Mrs. Edna Dismore, Mrs. Edith Cline, Mrs. Jennie Tyler and Mrs. Mina Duit.

A small remembrance was given those having birthdays in the August to February period. Later a collection of lovely personal gifts was presented to Mrs. Crooks, who expressed her appreciation in a few well chosen words. A social hour followed.

Next meeting will be in the Legion Home on February 4 when a class of candidates will be received.

ENTER THE BUSHMASTERS

MOST American troops fighting the Japanese in the South Pacific have had to learn jungle fighting the hard way. But a new classification of American troops is now in action to whom jungle fighting is a hereditary proposition.

These troops are called Bushmasters—a most appropriate appellation. They are American Indians from 20 different tribes, mostly from Arizona and New Mexico. They were specially trained for South Pacific duty in the jungles of Panama and recently have joined the fighting at Arawe on New Britain Island.

They made their presence felt immediately. Allied dispatches say they moved up to support the Texas dismounted cavalrymen who made the Arawe landing, at once put the wives of their ancestors into play, and cracked the Japanese positions. They drove the Japs back 1,000 yards at the first onset, capturing part of their field artillery and smashing 28 gun positions.

The Japanese are pretty good at jungle fighting, but the descendants of Geronimo, Cochise and other famous Southwestern Indian raiders and guerrillas of six or seven decades ago can be relied upon to show them who really wrote the book on the subject.

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT

One of the many things the Wacs are learning is to "waste not, want not." This especially applies to food. In most mess halls a sergeant stands at the door as the girls file past with trays on their way out. The Wacs are required to stack their empty dishes on trays and place them on the dishwashing counter.

If a Wac has left food on her plate the sergeant taps her on the shoulder and remarks, "You better dispose of the food you took and haven't eaten." There is but one way to dispose of it. Wacs, who are figure conscious, find this a sufficient reminder.

One of the worst offenses is to leave butter on a plate. That either results in having to go butterless for a couple of days or performing a trick at kitchen police. According to press releases from the Army, meat is never left on a plate and beef-hungry civilians are mistaken if they picture soldiers and Wacs reeling in thick, juicy steaks.

CARTOON-TEACHING

It has been predicted by some of America's leading educators that cartoon films will play a large part in the educational program of the future. At the present time conditions for the furtherance of so revolutionary a program are not favorable, but everything is possible.

The government is actually using cartoon films in education at the present time, but not for school children. They are being used in streamlined teaching programs for servicemen. Psychologists have pointed out the importance of visual imagery in memorization. Now pictures are being shown as techniques are taught to Yanks in training.

Not only that, but the American public is being informed through cartoon films. Disney's film, "Victory Through Air Power," acquainted thousands of Americans quickly with many technical points they otherwise probably would have missed. It is reported that another Disney film on industrial plants is soon to be started.

The future may see cartoons employed to teach prospective motorists to drive intelligently, military and naval strategy to future generals and admirals at West Point and Annapolis, and the nation's youth their ABC's and multiplication tables.

FOUNDING AT PARAMUSHIRU

After a period of inactivity American forces have resumed bombing raids on the big Japanese naval base at Paramushiru at the northern tip of the Kurile Islands, part of Japan proper.

It is interesting to note that the two raids just announced were made by Navy heavy bombers from an Aleutian Island base, first because such a base has been developed and second because, except for some probable instances related directly to land and naval operations in the Central and Southwest Pacific, this is an outstanding case of naval air activity from a land base. There was a time when such operations were a jealously guarded prerogative of the Army.

Various raids on Paramushiru have been made since last July when Japanese forces still clung to some positions in the Aleutians. These attacks are hazardous, calling for exceptional daring on the part of those participating in them. But it may be significant that the two most recent forays met little Japanese air opposition and all planes returned, one or two being slightly damaged by anti-aircraft fire.

Persistent and damaging air attacks on Japanese bastions such as the Kuriles are essential and should pay big dividends, particularly if fully adequate bomber forces can be built up in the Aleutians, both Army and Navy. It would be a gain of no small importance if Paramushiru could be knocked out as a naval and air base much too close for comfort both to Alaska and Russia's Far Eastern territory.

OPPORTUNITIES IN THIS STATE

The Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, through the State Planning Board, has compiled a list of industrial products in which Pennsylvania's consumption exceeds its production by nearly one billion dollars.

Many of these products are manufactured from Pennsylvania raw materials. Many of them represent types of commodities which the labor of the state seem particularly adapted to produce. Many consist of classes of consumer goods which Pennsylvania's proximity to the great markets of the East should make profitable for the state's manufacturers.

While no one state can hope to supply all the needs of its people and many products come naturally from areas where their raw materials are abundant, there is every reason for Pennsylvania manufacturers to study with great care such a list of deficiency products. Production of machinery is, for instance, one of the important types of Pennsylvania industry, yet there are several essential lines of machinery including agricultural, laundry, construction and food production equipment in which the peace-time output of Pennsylvania would need to be considerably increased to supply even our own state markets.

A sound peace-time program to provide full employment must certainly include the fullest use of all our state's resources of materials, transportation and skills to supply every possible deficiency in our manufacturing pattern.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BE DIPLOMATIC TO NEIGHBOR CHILD

It takes a lot of tact to win esteem and cooperation of the neighbor child and his parents. No end of problems for parents and child grow out of failure in this direction.

Here are two mothers living in the same apartment or in separate houses side by side. They may have been close friends from high school days, or since their marriage or expectancy. Expectant mothers and mothers of infants, with so many interests in common, often develop close friendship.

But when their children reach the age of three or more years, this friendship may become strained or wrecked. I have received many letters describing such. One mother, for example, may restrain her child wholesomely, the other not. One child, the more aggressive may, with his mother's approval, lord it over the other child. One mother may expect even, urge her child to look after his own rights; the other be over-protective, even forbidding her child to take his own part.

Undesirable Companion
Then there is the neighbor child whose mother you don't know or care to befriend, whose child constantly comes to your house or plays with your child out of doors. This neighbor child four, six or ten may lack proper guidance, be destructive, even menacing to your child physically and morally.

If you forbid the neighbor child to come to your home or forbid your child to play with him, or if you complain to this neighbor about her child, you and your child might be in for trouble for years afterwards. Perhaps this neighbor child is ostracized by other parents of the neighborhood. Yet, so long as you and he live near each other, your problems may multiply. Some of these problems, indeed, may grow to almost hopeless proportions.

Unless you are going to move, or these neighbors are, your wiser way will be to try to win the child and his parents to better conduct and cooperation. Succeeding in this direction, you make the neighbor child a fitter playmate for your child; you help save the neighbor child for good citizenship instead of letting him drift into delinquency and crime, and you contribute to the moral tone of the entire neighborhood. There is a limit, of course, to human endurance.

Handling the Problem
A few suggestions: Instead of ostracizing the undesirable child, welcome him at certain stated-before-hand times to your home when you can supervise him with your child. Require him to leave your premises if he fails to conform to your rules. You will try, however, to help him gain so much satisfaction there from doing what you approve that he will want to return and conform. Instead of forbidding your child to play with the neighbor child at all merely state the times, places, and other conditions under which your child may.

Some mothers have achieved wonderful results in these directions. They pay a big price, of course. They also get big returns from their investment.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. My daughter ten years old does very well at reading and arithmetic, but she is unable to learn to spell. Her father says she was just born short in spelling, since he never could spell.

A. Your husband is wrong. Any child who does well at reading and arithmetic should be able to spell if properly guided. Write me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with three cents and ask for my bulletin, "Home Helps for the Poor Speller." Follow it carefully, and your child should improve gradually in her spelling. Don't, however, look for miracles.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WHY?

Why should the best words that brighten our speech to the children be difficult always to teach?

And why without effort should youngsters acquire the epithets evil of neighbor or sire?

Yet never a parent but what has been staid

By a child's repetition of speech overheard.

If the garbage can slips from the scavenger's grip
And some evil expression escapes from his lip;

When the child, without hearing drops saucer or cup,
Folks will be shocked by the words he's picked up.

Am they'll say to each other: "Good gracious, my dear,

Whenever, wherever such things did he hear?"

This fact I have wished right about could be turned.

That what's good, not what's bad, could be easily learned.

But the way of all children when grow-ups are near

Is to pick up the worst of the language they hear.

And they pick up that emphasis, too, with the voice

Which they never quite manage with speech that is nice.

Yet here is a truth often misunderstood:
Not easily mortals were meant to be good.

The trait men admire are not lightly attained.

Skill, wisdom and honor by practice are gained.

Tis only the bad that's acquired from the start.

To live to life's best is the difficult art.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Tomorrow is my wife's birthday. For days and days now I've been thinking of it, just so that I wouldn't forget the memorable date.

Women are funny that way. They don't care so much about the present you give them, but if you forget—heaven help you.

I forgot a wedding anniversary one time. She didn't say anything, she was pleasant enough, but there was a chilliness in the air that told me plainly that something was wrong.

I asked her, "What's wrong dear?"

"Oh, nothing, nothing at all," was the sweet reply, but it was just a bit too sweet to be true.

In the middle of the night, I woke up and heard soft crying.

It was my wife. I didn't let on that I was awake, but I racked my brain, and suddenly it occurred to me—our wedding anniversary.

I felt like a heel and although it was two in the morning, I went downstairs to my den, took a piece of paper and wrote this verse:

"You really thought that I forgot. It seems that way, but I did not. I loved you then, I love you still. And, come what may, I always will."

Then I took a red pencil and a green one and drew a lovely bunch of roses on the paper, took it up stairs, turned on the light, gave the awful concoction to my wife, and smacked a really good kiss right on her lips.

She put her arms around me and said, happily:

"I really did think you had forgotten."

Once again I felt like an awful heel, but I had been told that white lies are excusable (and this column isn't written for children anyway) and the situation was saved.

Yes, women are funny. A little kindness is a little consideration; that's about all they want—plus a home, some nice clothes, spending money and "where have you been?"

But you have to take them as they are, and they certainly have to take us men as we are.

So, as long as there are only two sexes, we may as well study each other's peculiarities and make the best of the whole thing.

I for one like it.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE FOOD SITUATION

The food dopsters have been trying for some time, rather unsuccessfully, to determine the nation's food prospects for next year.

Listening to some farm bloc members, who seem to be never satisfied with present conditions, and to some independent researchers, the public is impressed with the idea that near-starvation is in the offing; that food supplies are going to be desperately short, if not utterly insufficient, to the need, unless more money is handed to the farmers, or to the millers, or to the packers, unless food subsidies are provided, so that the farmers and the cattlemen may realize more money for their work.

As soon as that impression takes root, some New Deal spokesman comes along with word that food is going to be plentiful; that record production will assure almost all of everything that anybody could possibly want.

Well, what are they doing about the matter? To be sure they did find that notwithstanding little porkers had been sacrificed to the New Deal's ideas several years ago, there were so many hogs offered for sale to the packers that the OPA was about ready to put pork on the free list. But when the gentle reader able to buy good roast beef?

Now, according to the OPA, cereals alone will be abundant; but as plentiful as a source, depending on the point of view, are chickens, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, potatoes, dried beans and peas will be short; that meat production will remain high, but civilians will not be able to get the meat less than in 1943. But it will be the effect of a dash of cold water upon both the farm bloc and the New Deal to make political capital of the food situation. If this should happen and sane administration of sane food policies should result, the year 1945 probably would be considerably brighter than those for this year.

What kind of degrading partisanship has crept into the national administration since that call to arms? What's all this attack on labor? Labor has been patriotic. If labor hadn't done its part, tell me, how could this miracle of production have come about?

The governor had some sound things to say about the post-war world. We've got to have a program based on production, not restriction. We've got to see that the boys who come back can find work.

Government jobs or government aid. And mark my word, my friends, if we fail the men who have saved this country, we'll make the worst failure we ever made.

As I said in the beginning, I liked Governor Bricker. He ought to get about and show a rather disinterested middle-aged man, if he does this, maybe he'll get Second Place on the Republican ticket.

IT OUGHT to be too clear to argue about that this vital objective cannot possibly be attained with a tax policy that will permit and encourage industry to convert, expand and perform. We not only have no such policy now but we have a policy, as Mr. Hanes points out, under which conversion, expansion and performance are just not possible. And Mr. Henderson also is right—though there are a great many people exuding more or less wistful thoughts on the subject, we have no post-war economic program. Moreover, unless we get one from Mr. Baruch, it is quite plain that we are not going to get one at all. Certainly, there will be forthcoming from either the White House or the Treasury. In the first absorption in international problems and military strategy is to great to allow anything save superficial attention to domestic problems. In the second, the utter incapacity to evolve a program has been too conclusively demonstrated.

TO THE TRUTH of Mr. Hanes' indictment only these responsible for our policy and the more so, the administration adherents take exception. Men whose opinions should have most weight agree upon two things: (1) the utter inadequacy and unsoundness of our tax program; (2) that our ability to swing a 250-billion-dollar debt and avert a 250-billion-dollar unemployment after peace comes, depends entirely upon how completely and how swiftly the productive capacity of the nation is restored to civilian use—and then, how well that can be sustained.

IT OUGHT to be too clear to argue about that this vital objective cannot possibly be attained with a tax policy that will permit and encourage industry to convert, expand and perform. We not only have no such policy now but we have a policy, as Mr. Hanes points out, under which conversion, expansion and performance are just not possible. And Mr. Henderson also is right—though there are a great many people exuding more or less wistful thoughts on the subject, we have no post-war economic program. Moreover, unless we get one from Mr. Baruch, it is quite plain that we are not going to get one at all. Certainly, there will be forthcoming from either the White House or the Treasury. In the first absorption in international problems and military strategy is to great to allow anything save superficial attention to domestic problems. In the second, the utter incapacity to evolve a program has been too conclusively demonstrated.

GLORIFIED COTTAGE PUDDING

An old favorite with a new sauce!

Baking powder's especially important here! To taste good, this simple cake must be light and fluffy! So use reliable, cream of tartar ROYAL! For its even, "steady action" protects your baking. Helps give high, light, fine-textured cakes that keep fresh—fluffy, tender hot breads, too. When baking at home, safeguard scarce rationed ingredients. Always use ROYAL cream of tartar BAKING POWDER.

2 cups sifted cake flour 1/2 cup fortified margarine
2 1/2 teaspoons Royal 1 cup sugar
Baking Powder 1 egg, well beaten
Baking Powder 1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream margarine thoroughly. Add sugar gradually, beating well. Add beaten egg and vanilla; beat until well blended. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix well. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan; bake in moderate oven at 350° F. about 30 minutes. Cut into squares and serve warm with Butterscotch Nut Sauce. Serves 8. A ROYAL treat.

BUTTERSCOTCH NUT SAUCE: Mix 1 cup brown sugar with 2 tablespoons cornstarch. Add 1/2 cup cold water and 1 tablespoon fortified margarine. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; cook 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Add 1/2 cup top milk gradually, mixing in well; add 1/4 cup chopped nuts.

Correspondent Tells Of Trip
To Surprise Landing

GETTING NEWS BACK IS GIGANTIC TASK

By DON WHITEHEAD
Representing Combined U. S. Press
(Distributed by I. N. S.)

AT FIFTH ARMY BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 23.—(Delayed)—Twenty-four hours in the life of a war correspondent is not particularly important to anyone but the correspondent himself, but this chronicle will give newspaper readers a glimpse of how their news is gathered in this theatre of war.

The nerve strain of covering an amphibious operation is terrific because of the confusion and uncertainty in getting dispatches back to the cable point.

The big rush is to get troops, guns, armor and ammunition ashore as rapidly as possible. They have priority above everything else.

Difficulties Encountered
After more than twenty-four hours ashore with the first assault troops to land behind the German lines, I have been able to get only 250 words of copy out by radio.

There have been thousands of words written but finding a means of getting them back to Naples is another matter. Slower service by air and sea is a catch-as-catch-can affair.

Perhaps today there will be a speedboat or plane or ship which will carry back the copy which we have been unable to file.

We have been amazed over the ease with which the Army and Navy managed to land troops behind enemy lines. I landed with the second assault wave at 0210 hour but did not see a shot fired. We just walked. That's how easy it was. We did not know when or where we were going but we were told confidentially about the amphibious operation by which the Fifth Army hoped to smash into the enemy's flank and break the Cassino stalemate and thus open the road to Rome.

Gets Assignment
We cut our field gear to a minimum which we were able to carry on our backs and then we were notified to report to various units to which we were assigned. I drew a unit commanded by Lt. Col. Lyle W. Bernard of Highland Falls, N. Y., an old friend from the Sicily campaign and one of the toughest and ablest soldiers I have ever seen.

Next morning our ship pulled out to sea to convey with the invasion fleet, and steamed toward Rome. Everyone spent most of the day sleeping or lounging in bunks, resting for the test ahead.

And then Bernard called his officers into the war room to give them a briefing on the operation and to explain his plans in detail.

"There can be no withdrawal and there will be no surrender," he said. "We've got to root the bastards out with rifle, grenade and bayonet and it will be a hard job. I'm not trying to paint a tragic picture but that's the way it looks and you might as well have it straight."

Prepare To Disembark
And then it was time to disembark.

bark. Our ship stood a lone guard about four miles off the coast. We were to land in the vicinity of Nettuno where Cicero once had a villa. We strapped our musette bags and slung the blankets over our shoulders. Each man had two days' emergency rations composed of three bars of concentrated chocolate and three boxes of K rations.

A bell sounded and we filed onto the deck and stood at the rail while the assault boats were launched. There was not a sound from the mainland.

We went down a swaying net into the boat and were jammed in tightly. The men did not talk much but stood swaying with the boat.

The boat pulled away from the ship to join other small craft moving toward shore.

I heard the seamen say "This damn boat is leaking badly. We'll never make shore. I knew I'd get a damn tub like this one."

The leak was plugged and the boat moved on inshore with others in V formation. At 0145 hours the Navy loosed a barrage on the beach and we thought the Germans would answer with coastal defense guns. Nothing happened.

The boat hit the beach hard and Bernard shouted "Everybody out fast." We surged toward the front of the boat but the ramp stuck.

"Follow me over the side," Bernard shouted, and dropped into the shallow surf.

Issues With Huge Argentine Commitments Strong On
Rumor Of Break
With Axis

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Those issues with huge Argentine commitments were strong on the stock market today, on news that the South American country is near a diplomatic break with the Axis.

Elsewhere, however, the list was mixed and narrow with most leaders holding within small fractions of last night's close.

Trading was quiet, with sales totaling yesterday's 690,200 shares.

International Telephone and Patino Mines were strong on the Argentine news, the former rising over a point before meeting selling and the latter up 1 1/2 points at one time.

American and Foreign power issues were strong, not only on the reported break, but also on the SEC's approval of the company's petition to issue $30 million in notes. The $7 preferred issues was up as much as 4 points while the low-priced common rose a large fraction.

Steels eased slightly, while motors, rails and utilities were steady.

Hold Youth For Quizzing Here

Young Man Makes Alleged Confession To One Burglary Here

Henry John Shadley, aged 18, of Edinburg, R. D. 1, today was undergoing a grilling at city detective headquarters relative to several robberies here, the youth reportedly having confessed to one, the burglarizing of the Trolley Diner, South Jefferson street, January 24. He allegedly confessed to stealing $34.00.

Shadley's apprehension on the East Side last night was developed through work by Sergeant Gimore Smith, Patrolman Carl Wallace, Lieutenant C. F. Suber and Cruiser Officer Joe Clavell.

Shadley is being quizzed concerning the robbery in an alley near North Beaver street recently in which H. R. Kennedy of New Wilmington was a victim and also the theft of a check for $79.00, from Francis Nolan, a dentist of Erie while Nolan was here. The check, according to Police Chief W. G. McMullen and Detective John Moore was cashed in Youngstown.

Begin Hearings On Meat Ration Suspension Plea

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A Senate banking subcommittee begins hearing today on a resolution temporarily suspending meat rationing.

Sen. John Thomas (R) Idaho, author of the measure, said evidence would be presented to show that meat rationing has resulted in the spoilage of meat while people clamor for it.

There have been charges that the WFA has unnecessarily stocked up warehouses with meat causing large amounts to spoil. The charges were denied by WFA officials.

Thomas declared there is such a glut of pork that ordinary marketing facilities have failed to absorb it. His resolution is backed by a powerful group of western senators who have demanded that OPA grant a holiday from meat rationing to allow civilian buyers to consume the surpluses.

Deny Reports Special Planes Are Being Built

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Douglas Aircraft Corp. officials denied today reports that two specially designed airplanes were being made for President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

One report had added that the plane being built for the president had a built-in elevator.

"No such airplanes are under construction here and no company official has expressed any belief on the subject," the Douglas Corporation declared.

Serious Lag In Sale Of E Bonds

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A "serious lag" was reported today in the sale of the fourth war loan campaign's series "E" bonds in the Fort Pitt area.

The 19-county total, leaders of this drive said, fell behind quota rates for the second successive day Monday.

The daily schedule for the district is $2,000,000. Managers of the campaign said only half that amount was received Saturday, and a corresponding decline was recorded for yesterday.

MARINES SLOG THROUGH BOUGAINVILLE MUD

DURING EARLY OPERATIONS on Bougainville Island, torrential rains turned the dirt roads into muddy by-paths that even bogged down jeeps. Caterpillar tractors had to be used to move supplies to the fighting front. This supply unit halts for a momentary rest on its way up to the line after battling through the goosy, clinging mud for hours. This is a U. S. Marine Corps photo. (International Soundphoto)

Safety Deposit Box Is Opened In Murder Case

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A second safety deposit box belonging to Mrs. Adele Born Williams was to be opened today to determine whether it contains any clues to her murder in the Drake Hotel last Wednesday.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Frank Starr Williams, commercial attaché in the state department in Washington, was shot and fatally wounded by a gunman who invaded her hotel suite and fled in the ensuing confusion.

Another box, which Mrs. Williams resided in the Drake Hotel the day she was shot, yielded jewelry valued at between $30,000 and $40,000.

Assistant State's Attorney Joseph Pope said today police have uncovered what he considers two good leads but he declined to discuss the new avenues of investigation.

Red Cross classes in surgical dressing are held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral 5 mornings a week, Monday through Friday, 4 afternoons Tuesday through Friday, and 3 evenings, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, was the reminder issued today by Mrs. Norman A. Martin, surgical dressing chairman.

More volunteer workers are needed for all 12 classes Mrs. Martin said.

Brazil And Peru Join In Turning Down Bolivia

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The United States and Venezuela were joined today in their refusal to recognize the revolutionary regime in Bolivia by Brazil and Peru.

Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil announced that his government, after consultation with other American nations found it could not establish diplomatic relations with the present Bolivian government.

Aranha said Brazil felt the Bolivian regime does not guarantee continental defense.

Congressman Gets His Suitcase Back

VANCOUVER, B. C. Jan. 25.—The mystery of the missing suitcase containing clothes and confidential papers of Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (D) Wash. was solved today.

Richard Brenner, Boeing employee walked into the Vancouver police station with the congressman's valise and told how he came to have it.

Brenner said he saw the suitcase fall from Magnuson's automobile in Vancouver last Wednesday. He picked it up, chased after the car, but was unable to catch up with it.

As Magnuson made no report to police, nothing appeared in the Vancouver newspapers until Monday. When Brenner read who owned the suitcase, he returned it to police.

County Treasurer Frank W. Hill stated Monday. No dog licenses will be sold until March 1 when the tags are expected to be in.

SALARY INCREASES

The work of the salary board has been completed and the total increases granted employees of the county approximate $6000 per year. In general a basis was established whereby employees getting under $100 per month were given $10 per month increase and those between $100 and $150 per month were given $5 per month.

CASES FILED

The following cases have been filed with the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts, John A. Edgar.

Marie Ida Matis of New Castle, asks a divorce from William B. Matis of Willard, O., upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment, indignities to person and desertion. They were married April 21, 1917 in Pittsburgh.

Alfred William Evans of New Castle, asks a divorce from Harriet Elizabeth Evans of New York City, charging desertion. They were married June 29, 1932, in Mercer.

Nancy Logan, a minor by her guardian and father, files a petition for approval of settlement of a case against Walter Chernyarsky in the amount of $1,000. The girl was injured on August 6, 1943 when the car of the defendant hit her. A suit was filed but both litigants have agreed to the compromise, which is allowed.

Zachariah Allerton Jr. of New Castle files a suit for $1450 against Ruth Urmon of Neshannock township for injuries and damages sustained April 25, 1943 when the cars of the litigants came together.

Ruth E. David Mathieson of Wampum asks a divorce from Harold E. Mathieson of Koppel on the grounds of indignities to person. They were married May 15, 1941 in Mercer.

State Capital Savings and Loan Association files a suit against R. James Callahan, administrator in the estate of S. James Callahan, deceased to recover a mortgage the amount due being placed at $4,972.91.

Grace May Beale of Bessemer asks a divorce from Duward B. Beale of Bessemer upon the grounds of indignities to person. They were married July 15, 1942 in New Castle.

state funds, the question is still unsettled although County Treasurer Frank W. Hill claims the premium should be paid out of state moneys received by the county.

In 1943 the county received from the state $1588.25 from the sale of dog, hunting and fishing licenses. This was exclusive of the mercantile tax.

This year the county will get no mercantile tax returns as this was voided by the General Assembly in the session of 1943.

Out of the returns from various state licenses the county treasurer gets $800 and there is an allowance for clerk hire, last year this being $780.

NEW CASTLE MEN IN BUTLER

Due to pressure of his private business County Detective Wendell A. Weihe of Butler County, recently appointed by District Attorney Clyde S. Shumaker, has resigned.

And Walter A. Haug was appointed. The appointment of Mr. Haug makes the district attorney's office in Butler County a 100 per cent former New Castle men affair.

Mr. Shumaker is a graduate of New Castle high school and a brother of Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker of this city. Mr. Haug is a graduate of New Castle high school and is remembered for his stellar work as a center on the football team. He starred in the days of Scooter Day, Cunningham, Fox and the other luminaries of that time.

Ration Coupons In Waste Paper Reported Sold

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Numerous arrests were expected to follow today in the wake of the discovery of a huge black market in legal ration coupons and certificates representing 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline, 15,000,000 gallons of fuel oil and all other types of rationed commodities.

Frank J. Loftus, acting director of the Harrisburg district OPA office, said the black market ring, which may have nationwide ramifications, salvaged gasoline and fuel oil coupons, stamps for shoes and all rationed foods and signed blanks for permission to buy automobiles, tires and other rationed commodities from waste paper obtained in Washington from government agencies. Many of them turned up in York county and an investigation followed.

Pope Will Not Leave Vatican

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Pope Pius XII was reported today to have answered with a flat refusal a new bid by Nazi Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring that the Pontiff leave the Vatican for Germany.

Dispatches to the Swedish press said that Kesselring has sent both a high officer of the German army and a political envoy to explain that the situation around Rome was now such that the Nazis may be forced not only to defend every house in the city but also occupy the Vatican itself.

His Holiness was said to have replied that he would not leave under any circumstances.

"The Vatican State is neutral and as its head I will stay here," the Pope was quoted as saying.

Utility Employees Have Credentials

Various schemes are employed by intriguers to enter and rob homes and while clever artifice is used by some thieves, the old old stunt of posing as a public utility inspector has whiskers yet some folks fall prey to it and presto—their home is robbed.

Today the Pennsylvania Power Company office issued a warning to all their customers to admit no one purporting to be from that company unless he first shows his identification badge. All electric company employees possess credentials proving they are legitimate.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP PROCEEDS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—High dignitaries of the Episcopal Church went into a service of ancient rituals today to consecrate Dr. Austin Pardue as fourth bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese in Trinity cathedral.

Dr. Pardue, who was dean of St. Paul's cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., succeeds retired Bishop Alexander Mann, who came from his new home in Geneva, N. Y. to attend the service. Bishop Mann spoke favorably of the proposed merger of the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches.

This Violates Tradition But It Meets A Demand

Since the announcement of the appearance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, on Monday night, January 31, as the first attraction of the Metropolitan Concert Guild there has been a demand that the attraction be opened to people who are unable to attend the succeeding attractions but want to see the Ballet Russe.

This is against the tradition of the Metropolitan Concert Guild, but because of the unusual quality of the Ballet Russe, because the demand has been so great, the Guild announces that for this performance it will sell single tickets. These are priced at $2 plus tax for the first balcony of the Cathedral, except for the first six rows, and $1.10 for the second balcony. Tickets may be purchased at the Greater New Castle Association or the Fleming Music Store on North Mill Street.

Season tickets will still be available through Friday, January 28th, for the three attractions. Thomas L. Thomas, noted baritone, will appear on March 10, and Luboshutz and Nemenoff, piano duo, will appear on April 15, instead of April 10 as previously announced.

But for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, with a cast of eighty, including a symphony orchestra, you can buy individual tickets. It's an opportunity.

To cut down on the amount of ironing of the family wash, hang all clothes straight on the line, so that the fewest number of wrinkles are dried in. Bedding, underwear and even some outer garments may be put away either without ironing of any kind, or with a mere flick of the iron, if clothes are hung properly.

The custom of children hanging their stockings on Christmas Eve originated in England. It had been the custom of the children of Holland to leave their wooden shoes by the fire, but as English children had no wooden shoes, they substituted stockings.

SENATOR SAYS TAX FORMS ARE TOO COMPLEX

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Sen. Walter F. George (D. Ga.), chairman of the Senate Finance committee, today joined those who criticize the complexity of income tax returns.

"The forms are unnecessary complicated," said George chairman of the senate finance committee.

Joint congressional tax experts will cooperate with the house ways and means committee in seeking simplification after the $2,275,000,000 tax bill, passed by the senate Friday, is cleared through conference.

Money In Circulation At An All-Time High

Treasury Experts Report 'Remarkable Restraint' Being Used By American People

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Treasury experts reported today that "remarkable restraint" is being used by the American people in exercising the greatest buying power in history.

With the money in circulation at an all-time high of $19,918,176,489, or $145.11 per capita, savings accounts are growing fast. The treasury estimates that one-fourth of the national income went into savings last year as compared to one-twelfth during the last war.

The treasury explained this huge circulation figure by emphasizing that the demands of business must be met. With the present large payrolls and the volume of business increasing, even more money will go into circulation.

Cash and carry plans, service charges on checking accounts, and such factors are forcing people to carry more cash in their pockets.

Keeping up with the Joneses, officials said, is now a matter of seeing which bank account will grow the fastest for many people.

Hoarding is practically non-existent. Debt-paying is going on apace.

In 1879 the per capita money circulation was only $16.92. During the last war it was $53.21, and in 1941 it was $76.11.

Rotarians Guests At Universal Plant

Enjoy Buffet Lunch and Tour
Plant Of One Of City's Older Industries

Members of the New Castle Rotary club had an interesting diversion from their usual meetings on Monday noon, when they were guests of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company at New Castle Junction.

A caravan was formed to the plant, and on arrival a buffet lunch was served.

Afterwards, the members were taken on a tour of the big plant, which is one of New Castle's older industries, manufacturing vitreous china plumbing fixtures, in which they have pioneered the field.

The visitation was arranged by Rotarian Henry Matiste, factory manager, and proved quite a surprise to those who had never visited the plant before. They found the wheels of industry humming, with production at a high level.

Members of the Rotary club will meet at The Castleton Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, from whence they will leave in a body to pay their respects to Walter W. Duff, past president of the club, whose death in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Friday night came as a great shock to his associates in the club. The funeral will take place at Trinity Episcopal church at 3 o'clock.

Hints On Etiquette

Don't talk about your health—or lack of it—all the time. It is bad manners and very boring.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 19

COMPENSATION FOR PERSONAL SERVICES

The first item of income to be entered in the federal income tax return is salaries, wages, and compensation for personal services. This item includes, in general, all earnings and compensation from employment, and other income of a personal nature, such as prize winnings and the like.

Compensation for personal services includes commissions paid to salesmen, compensation or bonuses for services on the basis of percentage of profits, commissions on insurance premiums earned by insurance salesmen or agents, bonuses whether in cash or securities or goods, the value of board and lodging (where it is not provided for the convenience of the employer), earnings paid for in groceries, goods, or services (at the market value of such goods or services), and the like.

It includes the salary of a clergyman, as well as marriage fees, baptismal offerings, sums paid for saying masses for the dead, and other contributions received by the clergyman or priest, and not paid to the church. The rental value of a parsonage supplied to a clergyman is, however, exempt and need not be included; but if no parsonage is furnished and instead an allowance for a parsonage or quarters is given, the amount of this allowance must be included as income.

Transportation charges paid by the government on account of the transportation of families of military and naval personnel are in the nature of additional compensation and must be reported as income; but the allowances for quarters and for subsistence are exempt.

Beginning in 1943, members of the armed forces of the United States, and citizens or residents of the United States who are members of the military or naval forces of any of the other United Nations, are exempt from income tax on not more than $1,500 of the annual compensation received during the present war for active service in such forces. This exemption applies without distinction as to rank or marital status, and is in addition to the personal exemption and other credits.

Old age pensions and retirement pay received from a former employer on account of previous services must be reported, except where they are exempt by express provisions of law, as in the case of certain government pensions to war-veterans who are no longer in active service. If, however, the employee had made contributions toward the pension or retirement fund, the retirement payments are treated as an annuity that has been purchased and only a portion of such payments is considered as income. (For the manner of treatment of such annuities see instruction 5 in the return, Form 1040.)

The earnings of a professional man, such as a lawyer or doctor maintaining his own office, would not be entered on Form 1040 under item 1 as compensation for personal services, but would be entered under item 8—"Net profit (or loss) from business or profession." For purposes of the earned income credit line 6 on page 4 of the return form, however, his professional income is considered as compensation for personal services.

Ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in connection with employment may be deducted in arriving at the net amount of salaries and other compensation for personal services. The amount of such expenses is shown on the line below the total income in item 1 on the face of the return, Form 1040, and the net amount it then entered after deducting expenses. An itemized statement of such expenses must, however, be attached to the return.

Clothing Stolen From Congressman

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (D., Wash.) lost a complete set of winter clothing but no military secrets when his luggage and private papers were stolen in Vancouver, B. C., last week it developed today.

Magnuson disclosed in a Seattle interview that his luggage was taken from an automobile in front of a Vancouver hotel while he was eating breakfast.

Scouting the idea that any of the stolen documents were of military worth, Magnuson characterized his loss as "provoking rather than serious. He added that he had received no further word from Canada on the subject.

THIS IS THE YEAR OF DECISION!

LET'S ALL MEET IT TOGETHER!

THE war none of us wanted is the war all of us have got to win—and we're being given our chance this year to make 1944 the year that counts, the year of decision.

With the greatest military strength the world has ever seen in our possession, we are boring in for the knock-out blow. But that blow needs a lot of punch behind it if we are to "count out" the German enemy this year. That's where you come in. For you are being asked this month to play your part in the 1944 march to victory by buying the Bonds that will help to make this the year to be proud of. And it's not only your duty but your privilege, for with every Bond you buy you'll be buying your share of the fruits of victory as well.

For the money you invest now will be yours to spend later for things you have always wanted.

Your duty as an American is to buy at least one extra $100 Bond. But that is just the rock-bottom figure. Thousands of Americans are going to have to invest much more than that during this 4th War Loan drive to make certain that this will be the year that marks the end of the Nazi power.

During this drive keep on buying your regular quota of Bonds where you work, and be sure you buy your extra Bonds there too. Every plant, every office, every community will have its quota—you must see that that quota where you work or live is reached.

This Drive is your Drive—your chance to prove that you are still backing the attack. Show your confidence that this is the year that will really hurt the enemies of your country on land, in the air and on the seas.

Fewer Marriage Licenses Issued During Past Year

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Although Pittsburgh district servicemen continue to marry before leaving for the battlefronts, their numbers have declined sharply in the past year.

In 1943 the rate was 8.6 per cent lower than in 1942. Allegheny county's marriage license bureau reports.

Following a nationwide trend, the bureau issued 1,000 fewer licenses last year than during the first full year of war, with 35 per cent of them going to servicemen.

"We expect a continued decrease this year," said John M. Huston, head of the bureau, and Bert Winters, chief clerk.

"The trend is the same as in World War I, with the well of marriageable men just about exhausted. We won't look for an upsurge until about six months after peace, when the men will come home."

CHINESE NEW YEAR NOT CELEBRATED

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The centuries-old Chinese tradition of celebrating with pagentry their New Year Day, which falls today, will be abandoned throughout the United States this year, William Yot, Chinese leader, announced in Pittsburgh.

Yot, who is secretary of the city's fraternal organizations, said the celebration will be subdued in respect of the suffering Chinese people and because of the war.

More than 800 years ago a Frenchman accidentally left some cheese in a cave and when he remembered leaving it there and returned to get it he found that the flavor had been greatly improved. And ever since cheese has been ripened in caves and is called Roquefort cheese.

Lawrence County Farm And Home News

By Extension Representatives, LEWIS, C. DAYTON, Agriculture; MISS JOSEPHINE SIMPSON, Home Economics

EFFICIENT USE OF FARM MANURE WILL AID DURING FERTILIZER SHORTAGE

The supply of fertilizer for 1944 will be increased over last year provided the manufacturers can secure the labor to manufacture it and the railroads can provide enough cars to ship it.

However, there is a shortage of potash which may affect certain crops. Most farmers in Lawrence County need not be effected by this shortage if they make wise use of manure. More than one-half the nitrogen and two-thirds of the potash in cow manure are in the liquid form. For this reason the use of adequate bedding to absorb this liquid material is essential if the full fertilizing value is to be realized.

The most practical way of handling manure on Lawrence County farms is to spread it at once on the farm. When this cannot be done, the manure should be stored in large piles with sides kept as straight as possible so that a relatively small surface is presented for weathering.

The use of superphosphate in the stable at the rate of 1½ to 2 pounds per day will assist in preventing loss from manure.

The crops which should be manured depend on what one wishes to increase the most. Corn and hay both benefit greatly from manure, while top dressing of wheat will often result in better stands of clover. Oats ground should not be manured as lodging may result. Light applications on several fields will produce greater increase in yield than will heavy application on a small area.

GOOD BREAKFASTS LEAD WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

A good breakfast for school children will go a long way toward preventing sickness during the winter.

Because many children must start to school while it is still dark mothers may have trouble getting the children up early enough to give them the kind of breakfast they need.

Most children need 10 to 12 hours of sleep. Radio program, homework and disturbances by other family members often prevent a child from getting to bed on time. Children will feel more like eating a good breakfast if they are not rushed.

Starting breakfast with a tart fruit helps to build up an appetite and furnishes protective foods, such as vitamins and minerals. Raw apples, tomato juice, orange, grapefruit, prunes cooked without sugar or rhubarb sauce are some of the winter fruits that can be served for breakfast.

A cooked and hot whole grain cereal served with little or no sugar but plenty of milk will provide food for growth and keep away that hungry feeling that is likely to come before noon. Occasionally raisins or raw dried apple can be stirred into cereal just before serving. Bread or toast and a cup of cocoa or hot or cold milk will complete this meal. Usually large servings of these foods are enough for most children. Active growing boys and some older girls may want an egg warmed up potatoes, or bacon added to this breakfast.

To prevent breakfasts from becoming tiresome, vary the fruit cereal, and bread each day. For variety, serve an egg, French toast or bacon even to the light eater.

MANY BREEDING EWES WINTER ON ROUGHAGE

Some Lawrence County farmers have to depend upon roughage for their breeding ewes this winter. However, they must not feed too much silage or any silage that is moldy or frozen if they want good results.

Good, clean corn silage fed at the rate of a bushel crate or about 25 pounds a day to 10 ewes is suggested by W. B. Connell livestock extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. If the silage is fed along with a good legume hay, the bred ewes should maintain thrifty condition without grain until about 3 or 4 weeks before lambing time. Where good grass silage is available it furnishes an excellent roughage. Half of the silage allowance can be corn silage fed in the morning and the other half grass silage fed in the afternoon.

Experienced farmers have learned the value of plenty of exercise for the breeding flock. If corn fodder or hay is placed in the yard the ewes will move around to get the roughage and thus get the much needed exercise. Fresh water and salt also should be available at all times.

Ewes that will not lamb before March 15 should be treated now with phenothiazine if they were not treated during the past fall. The phenothiazine should not be given the ewes closer than 6 to 8 weeks before lambing. Leaflet 95, published by the Agricultural Extension Service of the College, gives detailed information. It can be obtained free from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Present at the "old home week" picnic of native fruit were Marine Sgt. Delbert A. Jackson, 1015 West Washington street, former Shenango Pottery employe; Army Second Lieut. Jimmy Thompson, East Washington street and one-time member of the WKST staff; Marine Gunnery Sgt. Herman F. Kitchen of 1011½ Croton avenue. Tech. Sgt. Fred E. Welker of 207 Harbor road and Marine Warrant Officer William J. Lynch of 114 Atlantic avenue.

OLD 'WILD WEST' STAR PASSES ON

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Another of the rapidly diminishing group identified with the colorful Old West was gone today.

The ashes of Albert Parker Houghton, onetime star of "Buffalo Bill" Cody's famed wild west show were strewn among the cedars of a Chicago cemetery. He died at a home for retired show people where he had spent his last five years. He was 86.

Houghton, known as "Colorado Al," became a star with the opening of Cody's wild west show in 1883. The frontiersman signed him up when he saw the skill with which Houghton handled guns and horses in North Platte, Neb.

TWO SERVICEMEN HELD AT SCRANTON

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Two servicemen, their heads swathed in phony bandages to evoke feminine sympathy, were held in Scranton today for military authorities.

Terry Hart, Jr., 21, a soldier, and Alton Finney, 18, a sailor, both "absent without leave" from Plainfield, N. J., were picked up by a policeman who had become suspicious of their lavish headbandages.

After brief questioning, they admitted they were not injured, but had assumed the "spirit of '76" guise in order to attract the "sympathy of girls."

Says Russian Is Easy Language

Penn State Instructor Says Pronunciation Of Russian War Cities Is Simple

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Can you pronounce Zhitomir, Novogrod-Volynski, Lwow, Orel, Velikie Luki or Novosokolniki?

It's as simple as a, b, c—in fact, simpler—to pronounce these Russian war cities, according to Father Konstantine Auroroff, part-time instructor in Russian at the Pennsylvania State college.

"Russian is an easy language. Anyone can learn to read it in two or three hours," declares Father Auroroff. "In English there are some 60 sounds. In Russian there are 32 and only two or three of them are not used in English."

To begin with, he stresses, Russian is a phonetic language. There aren't three or four different sounds for the letter a, for instance, as there are in English; a in Russian is always pronounced as in "bar."

Other Russian letters represent the English sounds of b, d, long e, f, g, as in go, k or c, l, m, n, long o, p, r (with a trill), s, t, long u, v and z. Combinations of English letters, such as ye, oo, sh, sh and ya, are used as one character in Russian. Some of the sounds unfamiliar to English ears are an n pronounced as "hoch", a zh sound like the French j, and a ts combination as in "nuts."

Once the student has learned the Russian alphabet and how to pronounce each character, he will have no trouble reading Russian, according to Father Auroroff.

Then all he has to do is learn to translate.

Police Heads To Have Conference

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The heads of the State Police organizations of 12 eastern states will meet Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at Hershey to discuss current and postwar problems.

Announcement of the meeting was made today by Commissioner Edward J. Hickey of the Connecticut State police, general chairman of the Northeastern Region, State and Provincial Section, International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The gathering will convene under the chairmanship of Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm of the Pennsylvania State police. It is one of a series of meetings being held through the United States.

Present at the sessions will be the commanding officers of the State Police forces of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, New Hampshire, New York, Virginia, Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, West Virginia and Rhode Island.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

Regular business meeting of post 6-2 will be held at the Sampson street post Tuesday at 8 p. m. Ed Johnson, senior warden will be in charge.

A meeting is being held at Harrisburg this week by the State Council of Defense and representatives of the many county councils of defense to plan further activities for the civilian defense workers.

"Most OCD people in this area read in the different newspapers last week a statement supposedly coming from the army and OCD. It said we would have no more blackout drills. It was published twice during the past year. To date it has not meant a thing because we have continued having air raid drills.

"As the local office has received nothing official, on this we can assume that we will continue to have air raid drills. This may be a part of the discussion at the meeting at Harrisburg this week," Frank Sargent stated today.

4th WAR LOAN

WHAT would a wounded soldier think of you if he could hear you say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond?"

He might remind you that he couldn't "afford" to go to war! But he went, and now he's making more sacrifices... for you. No wonder he expects you to do something that will help him!

Especially when all you're asked to do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond this month. So check over your budget... see if you can't swing at least an extra $100... or $200... or $300... or even $500 for extra War Bonds. You'll find that you can... and it's no sacrifice, either, for War Bonds are the best investment in the world today!

Million Dollar House Is Seen

Soldier Show Here Saturday To Attract Huge Throng Of Bond Buyers

When the army show "Pennsylvania on Parade" plays the Cathedral Saturday night, January 29, the soldiers in the cast will be looking at a "Million Dollar House." A little better than that in fact for the total bond sales for the Saturday night show are already kissing the million dollar mark and the tickets are not quite all gone.

Not quite, but nearly so. At noon today the first floor was entirely sold out, the first balcony had about twenty seats left in it and the second balcony had about 150 seats left in it. By Wednesday noon the entire house should be reserved for the evening show.

Also Matinee
Seats for the matinee are going fast. These seats will not be reserved as they are for the evening which means that a bond purchase of $18.75 may get a seat fourth row center on the aisle just as well as one for $10.00.

Clarence M. England, who is chairman of the Army show arrangements wants to show the visiting soldier-actors from New Cumberland two full houses. There are several reasons for this. First he wants to prove what the committee recently told the men, that New Castle would be the best town in which they have played, second to sell a bundle of bonds and third to set a new record for the Cathedral. Looks like he may do it.

Auction A Helmet

During the intermission of the evening show, a German helmet will be auctioned off to the highest bidder in bonds. This helmet was once parked at the nob of a Nazi soldier somewhere in Italy. When the Allies took over some tank also took over the Nazi's iron skinner although the record doesn't show what happened to the Nazi. Only the helmet will be auctioned off, not the Nazi, as his address is unknown.

Tickets for the matinee can still be secured in the office of the Pennsylvania Power Company. When a bond is sold, the issuing agent gives the bond purchaser a yellow card. This yellow card may be exchanged for a ticket in the power office from one to five any afternoon from now until Saturday. There are still a few seats left for the evening show (and this isn't the usually bullsh—[is the truth] but only a few. There are many more seats left for the matinee performance.

By Thursday the probabilities are there won't be enough seats left unclaimed to fill the corner of a wallet.

"Pennsylvania on Parade" is a professional affair; although every performer is a soldier now on duty. Many of the men were in the theatrical profession before the war. Some of the numbers presented would do credit to a metropolitan production.

SEVENTH WARD

OBSERVE FATHER'S NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson of 510 North Liberty street, have returned from Sharpville, where on Sunday they helped celebrate the 90th birthday anniversary of the latter's father, William A. Miller of that town.

There was a family dinner in Mr. Miller's honor, when 25 relatives attended from this city, Sharon and Greenville.

The honored guest, a retired farmer, is in good health. He has visited this city a number of times. There are 11 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, some of them in this city.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY CLUB HAS MEETING
Members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club met in the home of Esther Santillo, 113 Lacock street, Saturday evening, and her birthday was honored.

Games and dancing were pastimes. Later, a birthday lunch was served, the hostess aided by her sister, Mary Santillo, and Mrs. Barbara Piorzi.

The honoree received a gift. Special guests included: Connie Rosano, Josephine Melozzi and Mrs. Barbara Santillo.

January 27, is the birthday meeting of Mrs. Connie Sandora of Cedar street.

PROMOTED TO ENSIGN
Ensign Lawrence Spears, who has been attending school at Notre Dame, Ind., is on leave visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spears of Mt. Jackson road. Lawrence was recently promoted to ensign at Notre Dame, on completion of his course there. Ensign Spears leaves Thursday for Rhode Island, where he will take up study of aerology at a school there.

FIRST AID CLASS
At the fire department hall, East Cherry street, there will be a first aid class on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock for air wardens and messengers of the OCD.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
Alex Johnson, Jr., son of Mrs. Alex Johnson of 311 Newell avenue, was taken to the New Castle hospital on Monday. He will later undergo an operation.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Domenick Carbone, son of Matt Carbone of South Liberty street, is now getting along nicely at his home.

He received treatment for over a year at the New Castle hospital, having been burned severely at his employment.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Senheiser and family of West Madison avenue have moved to Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Main of Butler visited during Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. W. T. Jones of Newell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith of West Clayton street have left for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will make an extended sojourn.

Mrs. Concetta Manna, 116 South Wayne street, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home from the New Castle hospital.

Seaman Second Class Robert Park is here on 16 days leave visiting with his mother, Mrs. S. E. Park of 205 East Cherry street, and other relatives here. He recently completed his boot training at Great Lakes naval training station, Ill.

Bart Lombardo of South Lafayette street, who was quite ill at his home for about two weeks, is much improved, and has returned to his employment.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wilson, of West Clayton street, have returned from Cleveland, O., where they attended the funeral of Robert F. Cron.

Carmen Domenick of North Liberty street, who suffered a second degree burn on his hand a week ago at his employment, is getting along nicely.

Income Tax School Is Arranged Here

Instruction Will Be Given Friday And Saturday To Business, Industrial Concerns

Announcement was made today at the office of the deputy of internal revenue, Post Office building, that the collector of internal revenue at Pittsburgh has arranged for a school of instruction on the filing of the current income tax return for representatives of business and industrial concerns in Lawrence county, to be held in the George Washington junior high school, corner of Euclid avenue and Mercer street, New Castle, Friday and Saturday, January 28 and 29, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

The instruction that these representatives will receive at this school will equip them with sufficient knowledge to prepare income tax returns of their fellow employees or any other wage earner or person on salary.

MISSING

... 2,000,000 Tons of Waste Paper
... 25 War Plants

... HOW MANY AMERICAN BOYS?

There's a critical shortage of the waste paper used to make the wrappings and paperboard containers in which food, ammunition and blood plasma go to the fighting fronts. 2,000,000 tons extra are needed.

Right now about 25 paper-consuming war plants are shut! Over 100 others are running part-time.

How soon will this affect the flow of vitally needed supplies to some fighting line? How soon will it cripple production of bomb rings, shell containers, and signal flare parts, all made of paper? And as a result, how many American boys will be reported "Missing"?

Answer these questions now and for keeps! Start saving old boxes, cartons, bags, corrugated paper, newspapers, magazines. And keep right on saving them.

Ask your friends to save their share. Organize the children into paper commandos. If everybody works together, we'll be sure that no American boy will die just because paper collections lagged!

Start saving today!

SAVE A BUNDLE A WEEK SOME BOY'S LIFE

Newspapers: Fold them flat (the way the paper boy sells them) and tie them in bundles about 12 inches high.

Magazines and Books: Tie them in bundles about 18 inches high.

Corrugated and Cardboard Boxes and Cartons: Flatten them out and tie them in bundles about 12 inches high.

Wastebasket Paper, Wrappings, Envelopes, Etc.: Flatten and pack down in a box or bundle, so that it can be carried.

GROVE CITY, Jan. 25.—Declining to lease marginal land at the George Junior Republic farm to a coal-stripping outfit, directors have taken an unusual step in this district, which is rapidly becoming honeycombed with such operations.

The board's committee submitted an adverse report, which was accepted.

The meeting was held on the fourth anniversary of Supt. Arthur Prasse's incumbency, and his report touched on the highlights of accomplishment in that period. Directors were present from Ebensburg, New Castle, and Sharon, with Judge George H. Rowley of Mercer county as an invited guest.

URGENT POSTWAR FUNDS
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—City councilmen revealed today that they desire the state legislature to earmark part of the surplus state treasury funds to meet damage claims in Pittsburgh's post-war work program.

A resolution they adopted refers to a recent radio statement by Gov. Edward Martin that Pennsylvania's surplus is about 100 million dollars. Their petition will ask about five million dollars to relieve city taxpayers of the damage charges on jobs in which the state, the city and Allegheny county will participate.

Titan Cagers Face W. & J.-Geneva This Week

Wash. And Jeff. Foe On Wednesday Night

Locals Can Climb Near Top By Clubbing District's Leading Quint

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 25.—Swinging back into action after the regular "time out" for mid-semester exams, the unpredictable Westminster Titans make an important home stand against Wash-Jeff and Geneva on Wednesday and Saturday nights respectively.

If the locals maintain their local performance record of no defeats on the home floor this season, the district race will be more mudied at the end of this week. The Wash-Jeff presidents hold the top rank in Western Pennsylvania with a record of six wins and only two setbacks.

Westminster will be without the services of George Lawry, versatile naval aviation cadet, who was transferred to the Cambridge, Md., naval station because he was not physically qualified to fly.

Acquire Two Cadets
However, Coach Grover Washbaugh has acquired two additional navy cadets this week. They are William Case, former Uniontown University player, and Elmer Cherup who played for East Bethlehem high and Waynesburg college.

The Titans ranks have also been bolstered by the return of Chris Wagner, speedy Connellsville center, who has resumed his studies after being discharged from the navy V-5 program because of a leg injury.

A forward, Wagner was a member of the Titan squad last season. He will probably take the place of former Princeton star, Lawry, in the starting lineup.

Westminster, holding down third place with Penn State by virtue of five wins against four losses, can climb near the top by turning back the hot Prexies and Geneva.

The 10 leading district teams:

Montgomery Fights Ike Williams Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Betting odds still favored former lightweight champion Bob Montgomery as he prepared for his 12-round bout tonight with Ike Williams at Convention Hall.

The match which marks the Trenton striping's first major effort is expected to attract the largest crowd for an indoor fight since Joe Louis met Gus Dorazio in the same ring two years ago.

The bobcat has plenty at stake too in this meeting of negro top-shelfers. He is matched with Bummy Davis in Madison Square Garden February 18 and has contracted to meet Beau Jack for the lightweight title in March. Although a defeat by Williams would not jeopardize his shot at the crown, it would whittle down the gates for both fighters.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

One of the oldest yet happiest experiences that can come to any U. S. soldier came to George Chip Jr., son of the former middleweight champion of the world after having returned to a rest camp following an engagement with the Japs in the South Pacific—the sight of a post announcing the showing of a motion picture of the nine round fight between his father and the late Les Darcy 26 years ago in Australia.

Further, the movie of Chip and Darcy had top billing over films depicting Dempsey, Tunney, Louis and other kings of punch in battle. The pictures were shown December 3 and one can bet a dollar to a cent that George Jr., eagerly watched the silver screen as his father, then in his prime, matched punches only to lose to the great Australian fighter, George Jr. sent the litho home to his father. It arrived here yesterday.

Incidentally, it comes back to us that we were the first man in the U. S. to know that Les, instead of giving George a return fight, had taken a tramp steamer, United States-bound. The news came in a cable sent home by George.

George had gone to the office of the Referee to discuss the return bout with the late sports scribe, W. F. Corbett and while the coming fight was being talked over, in fumed the Australian promoter, Hugh McIntosh.

Noting his state of mind Corbett inquired of McIntosh: "What's on your mind?" McIntosh blurted that Darcy had left on a tramp steamer then exclaimed: "I'll check the Block!"

According to George, Promoter McIntosh cabled friends in America. A campaign of vilification met Darcy. Intigue followed. It wasn't long until Darcy, the sole support of a family of 13 was branded a slacker.

At that time Australia did not have conscription. Few rushed to his defense. The fact he was a bread-winner for a family of 13 was not broadcast. He wasn't allowed to fight.

He became discouraged. Later an infection of his teeth had a fatal effect and Darcy passed away in a strange country.

New Castle-Butler Play Here Tonight

Canes Reserves In Prelim At 7; Varsity Contest Starts At 8:15

Poes in basketball and football for many years, Butler and New Castle played their only game of the 1943-44 campaign here tonight, switching hoops at 8:15 o'clock on George Washington junior high floor.

Both aggregations are idle, so far as WPIAL sectional play is concerned, and filled the date recently. In their last fray, with Kittanning high, the Soapsmishers hit the dust, 33-23. Since New Castle upset the Kitties by a 44-31 count here, the Canes draw the favorite post.

See Thrilling Game
While the outcome has no bearing on the WPIAL races, the athletic rivalry that has existed between the schools all these years, figures to result in a nerve-tingling skirmish from start to finish.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh probably will juggle his lineup, using most of his varsity squad and thus permit his younger hands to gain experience.

The Canes reserves, defeated once this season, perform in the preliminary piece slated to start at 7.

Probable lineup:
New Castle Butler
Andrews F Graham
E. Jackson C Hepler
Wimer G Kerr
B. Preston G Stutz
Fisher G Geibel

Second Half Openers Thrilling; UEF-Aluminum Works Setto Marathon Affair

Followers of the Industrial and Church leagues received an unrated amount of excitement last night as the two loops inaugurated the second half race of the Y.M.C.A. planks.

In the opening skirmish, the Shenango Pottery smashed the Universal Pottery, 48-15. The Potters settled the issue by intermission time, rolling in 22 points compared to five, Vargo and Santangelo featured, each with 14 points. Todd and Grassell were the losers' aces.

Regarded as one of the favorites to cop the second half coronet, the United Engineering quint was forced into a regulation extra period and a "sudden death" stanza to squeeze past the Aluminum Works, 28-26.

Borowicz Ends Game
At half-time, the Engineers led by 16-10. The Alcoa rallied and knotted the count at 24 all as the regulation clash ended. The foes were able to tally only two points apiece in the extra and a "sudden death" chapter was ordered. Norbert Borowicz, who flipped 13 points for the night, rifled the winning deuce. Byler's 12 markers was the stand-out performance for the losers.

St. George Orthodox was extended in piling up a 30-28 decision over Third U. P. J. Damaskon and Hrisoulas garnered 26 of the George points while Bill and Bob Reed walked off with honors for the Third U. P. The rivals were tied at 16-16 when the half whistle sounded.

Anderson Member

State Bowl Eleven

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Lieut. Col. William L. Anderson, commander of Pennsylvania's wing of the Civil Air Patrol and director of the State Aeronautics Commission, competed in football, lacrosse, and track as an undergraduate at Penn State.

Anderson, who flies his own plane and lives on his own farm near Harrisburg, was a stand-out in lacrosse but also played on the Nittany Lion football team that played Southern California in the Rose Bowl on January 1, 1923.

He is a native of Wilksburg.

Lions Will Battle Four Hockey Foes

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Penn State's Navy-boostered ice hockey team will play four matches this winter. Colgate will provide the opposition in the opener here January 29.

Other matches are: Cornell, away, Feb. 3; Cornell, home, Feb. 19; Army, away, Feb. 26.

Many Foxes Taken In North Beaver

Willie Kuhn Leads Fox Hunters With Bag Of Seven This Winter

Fox hunters and sportsmen of the North Beaver township district have been doing a good job in ridding that section of foxes, several successful fox hunts having been held this winter.

Among those who have been leading in the campaign to rid the section of these pests have been Willie and Clarence Kuhn. "Red" McDowell and Deputy Game Protector William Kildoo. A number of others have also participated in the hunt.

Willie Kuhn has been the most fortunate of the group to date, having caught seven foxes himself.

KEY PICKS UMPS TO MAINTAIN PEACE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today urged formation of an international group of umpires, backed by the force of a league of nations, to achieve and maintain world peace.

The widely-known Methodist layman told members of the Russell H. Conwell Breakfast club in Philadelphia that these umpires could curb the behavior of nations just as baseball umpires conduct games.

Victory Bowling Campaign Starts

Committee Sets $500 Goal; Funds Used To Buy Equipment, Games For "Our Boys"

Hoping to roll a $500 strike, the Bowlers' Victory Legion committee, headed by George Shook, today started its local drive.

The campaign, nationwide in scope and designed to raise funds to be used to purchase recreational equipment and games for servicemen, ends on Saturday night.

Bowling alley owners here are playing the leading role. In addition to contributing financially, the men are helping with the collection and doing their part to boost the drive.

Local members of the kegling family, estimated to number more than 1,500, are being asked to contribute "whatever they want to give."

Shook and the remainder of his committee, comprised of Ray Wallace, local radio announcer, and Charles A. Landolf, New Castle News sports chief, are hopeful that the $500 strike will be a reality before the week ends.

Non-bowlers can contribute if they so desire by visiting one of the local bowling establishments or by forwarding contributions to C. A. Landolf, New Castle News.

Local Quints Play Five Tilts Tonight

Local scholastic quintets get away from the hot WPIAL sectional races tonight and match shots with non-league established teams.

In addition to the New Castle-Butler battle at George Washington junior high school floor, four other tilts are carded.

New Wilmington tries to even accounts with Mercer high on Community House floor. New Wilmington last year's B WPIAL champs were defeated 24-16 by the Mercer countians earlier this season.

Bessemer high travels to Lowellville in what should be a thrilling engagement. The locals polished the Lowellvillers by a 41-36 count earlier and figure to repeat.

Ellwood City takes on fast-moving Rochester on Lincoln high's hardwood. The Wolverines subdued the valley quintet by a 34-24 margin several weeks ago.

East Brook invades Darlington while other sectional foes remain on the idle list.

Frisch Approves Exhibition Games

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Frank Frisch, Pirate manager, visiting Pittsburgh today after a tour of Alaskan military bases, says his team will adhere to the training program observed a year ago at Muncie, Ind., and approved the schedule of exhibition games.

He and other club officials conferred regarding the draft status of players on the active list.

"We want to see prepared for any offers which might be made to swap," he explained, "at the approaching February schedule meeting, but I have my doubts about any deals being made. I think we are lucky to have what we've got."

Hoppe Leading Cochran By 207

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Champion Willie Hoppe held a 207-point lead over Welker Cochran of Francisco today after they divided the first two blocks in the New York—and final—leg of their national three-cushion billiards tour.

The match is being played for 2,150 points. Hoppe's total score now is 1,950 and Cochran's 1,743. The pair previously had competed in Kansas City, Detroit and Chicago.

Philly Gets State Catholic Tourney

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The Quaker city became the site of the state-wide Catholic high school basketball championship playoffs when the winners of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Dioceses meet at Convention Hall, March 18.

Rev. Joseph C. Dougherty, in announcing the playoffs plans, commented "eventually it is our intention to challenge the PIAA winner. It took years to get the public and Catholic league schools together here, but it was well worth the effort."

LOVE YET
FORT WORTH.—Capt. Zeke Christner, senior, is the only member of the basketball squad who competed for Texas Christian before this year.

Correspondent Tells Of Trip For Invasion

(Editor's note: The following dispatch from Clark Lee was written a few hours before the Allied landings south of Rome.—INS.)

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Jan. 21.—(Delayed.) Here we go again. We are under way now on the left hook operation that we hope will land us in Rome, and the big question is does Jerry know we are coming?

With their lives depending on the answer to the question, the men can't resist betting on whether we will get ashore with comparative ease or whether there will be another hell of 88s and tanks, mortars and machine-guns like Salerno. Opinion is split about fifty-fifty. The Germans must know something is up because they have seen all the activity in the coastal harbors from the air and undoubtedly through their spies. But they may not know exactly when and where.

Large-Scale Force
We are going into this operation with a large-scale force. We believe we have enough power to blast a beachhead, hold off counter-attacks and drive through to our objectives.

The officers' opinions are divided, too. I suspect that Jerry will be mighty sensitive to our landing, one said. "It will threaten to cut off all his troops on the new Adolf Hitler line above Cassino. If they pull back from there the Fifth Army can breeze up the road to Rome. If they hold there, we will be in behind them and they won't be able to get supplies."

We drove down in trucks and jeeps this morning to board our landing craft. The loading went off without a slip. We watched the troops as they went aboard the LCTs climbing the long ramps at each side of the boats. The men were in high spirits, joking a lot and complaining a little.

Most of the men had two or three yellow grenades fastened to their combat jackets. Some carried bazookas and others labored under the weight of cartons of 81mm shells. They quickly stowed their gear below and spread out along the stern rail top side to bargain with the Italian boatmen selling oranges and nuts, and here and there a bottle of wine.

Some Go To Sleep
A few of the soldiers went to sleep immediately in the narrow, triple-tiered bunks below the decks.

"We get a bunch like that every trip," said Lieut. Hugh D. Savage of Garden City, L. I., skipper of the L. C. I.

They turn in when they come aboard and sleep through any air raids and shooting. When its time for them to go ashore, someone taps them on the shoulder and without a bit of waste motion they are up, have taken their equipment and are on their way down the ramp."

Shortly after noon the first of the LCTs backed away and headed out into the harbor, where a good many ships were at anchor. As we pulled away from the ship beside us the soldiers shouted brief, joking salutations to their friends.

We circled the harbor for awhile, checking our compass and then fell into place in a long convoy headed seaward.

There were big LCTs ahead and bigger ships behind in a long triple line that reached over the horizon in both directions. There was a light haze but we could see the houses as we coasted past on calm blue waters.

The navy men took the canvas covers off their ack-ack guns and the troops put on helmets and life jackets.

If there was any tension you couldn't see it or feel it. When the horn sounded for a practice call to battle stations the soldiers thought it was a call and fell into line with their mess kits.

An Army-Navy group was discussing the war.

"We get plenty of work here," said Radioman Second Class Leon E. Martell of Central Falls, R. I. "This will be our fifth assault landing."

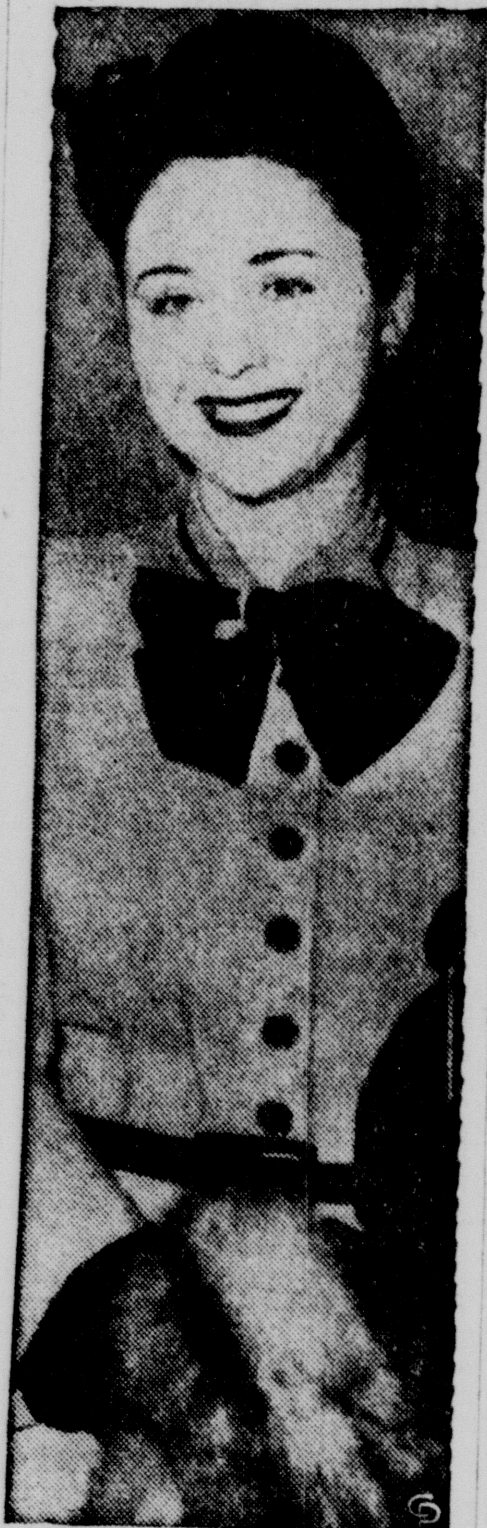

As matters turned out, our end run caught the enemy nearly flat-footed and we landed almost without opposition at 2 o'clock.

The Germans apparently got wind of our landing at the last minute and only last night rushed troops from Rome, but they hadn't even taken up defense positions when our assault waves swept ashore.

We immediately took seaside towns, the largest at most places our troops simply walked ashore, followed shortly by trucks, and our parols pushed outward.

The first Indian trading station of the East India company was opened in 1609, at Surat on the Arabian sea coast.

"And It Fits"

SPOTLIGHT turned upon Ruth Waldo, above, formerly of Columbus, O., when she testified in a New York trial that she was given a $3,000 mink coat by Jack Topping, heir to a copper fortune. Topping sued to recover losses he suffered in a chemin-de-fer game, but the defense claimed that part of the alleged losses went to pay for the mink coat. (International)

PRISONERS HID INSIDE WALLS OF GRATERSFORD

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A seven-state dragnet was called off today after two convicts, believed to have escaped from Eastern penitentiary at Gratersford, were recaptured within the confines of the prison itself. They had never reached the outside.

For more than 40 hours, the pair hid inside a huge unused boiler in the prison powerhouse, coming out only twice for water. When finally discovered, they led guards a 20-minute chase over the rooftops of prison buildings.

The convicts were Melvin Gridley, 25, a Tioga county man serving five to 10 years as an automobile thief, and Edward Grygier, 35-year-old Philadelphia serving six to 12 years for receiving stolen goods.

Worst Of Present Winter Over; But Outlook For 44-45

HAMILTON, N. Y., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Persons who have been lying awake nights worrying about the rapid diminution of their coal supply can take encouragement from a prediction made today by Robert D. Edwards, aerology instructor in Colgate university's naval flight preparatory school.

"We have already seen the worst of this winter," declared Edwards, a student of weather cycles. "From now until the middle of June temperatures should average slightly above normal for that time of year, and I am even willing to hazard a guess that we may see some unusually mild weather between the end of January and the middle of March and a downright hot spell between June 5 and 15."

The winter of 1944-45, Edwards said, will be another story. In his opinion it is likely to rival the winter of 1933-34 when this area had temperatures ranging to 54 below zero.

"Starting in July we can, I believe, expect temperatures to move over toward the deficit side," Edwards said. "August should be appreciably cooler than usual, and the thermometer seems likely to trend more and more toward sub-average during the final months of 1944 to reach what may be near-record lows in January, 1945."

Edwards also predicted (1) stormy weather for late March, late June, early September and early December; (2) an early frost; (3) a bad drought in 1945.

AROUND CITY HALL

John F. Haven preached economy during his campaign, reiterating he would practice it when he subscribed to the oath of office as mayor and Monday during council meeting in city hall practiced what he preached.

Here's what occurred:

The police department quota is 48. Forty-two men now compose the force.

Mayor Haven asked for the sanction to hire eight watchmen among them being two women. He said he did not propose hiring any more city bluecoats.

Council sanctioned the move. Had Mayor Haven filled the quota of 48 it would have cost taxpayers $167 for each policeman for 11 months or $1,837.

The watchmen at $40 per month for nine months, will cost the taxpayers $2,880, or $8,142, less than if six police were employed.

Employment of the watchmen to guard children crossing streets and from school will release police from that duty for other duties.

It was necessary, according to Mayor Haven to "load the day force" because of school guard duty.

Through the employment of the watchmen it may now result in the force being more equitably divided on the three turns.

The writer observed traffic Saturday during the evening rush hours. The bluecoats who tooted whistles with every change of the light worked hard. Traffic was good. True, some pedestrians violated the light. There were not many who did. However, it may not be a wise to pass a word of merit for one traffic policeman, Jack James. Upon one occasion, he walked to the center of East Washington at Mill street and aided an elderly lady across the street. When two youngsters, a boy and a girl, started to run from the sidewalk in front of oncoming traffic he caught both by the arm. They could have been injured had their dash continued.

It isn't likely there will be any effort made to freeze a portion of Dean Park unless the weatherman delivers a 10-above temperature, according to Carmi Glover, commissioner of streets. Not so long ago a force of men from the department sprayed the ground a half inch of ice formed but later Old Sol made the ice look like an ice cream cone on a July afternoon. The project was of an experimental nature. It is probable, however, that there will be 10 above and also 10 below weather before Miss Spring arrives in her zephyr clothing. It is then that the street department brigade will probably become active.

Indications point to the conversion of the East Washington street city hall room, occupied by years by William E. Ferver into a city tax department room. Mr. Ferver's lease by agreement with council, will be terminated as of February 1. During a conference between Mayor John F. Haven, Property Director Joseph D. Alexander and other councilmen recently it was the opinion that it might be a good move to shift the delinquent tax office from the third floor to the first floor. It will be possible through some remodeling to connect the city treasury and the room proposed for the tax office. Nowadays persons, many of them aged, in order to pay their taxes, are compelled to climb three stories because there is no elevator.

Bids of various insurance agents here for carrying the city's insurance were opened Monday when council convened in the city building. The bids were referred to Joseph D. Alexander, property director, Albert A. Hoyland, finance director and Robert White, city solicitor.

One of the alleged inequities of tax liens came to light during council meeting Monday after the appearance before the delinquent tax judge James A. Chambers. He represented a client who said that for years he had been paying off a lien and already had paid off hundreds of dollars interest. The former judge said his client would like to have a rebate inasmuch as he had worked hard to clear the debt yet a recent state act had permitted the exemption of interest on others. Safety Director D. O. Davies referred the request to committee, stating that in his belief that this case and some others should be considered.

Waste Paper Storage Space Still Needed

Patriotic citizens are answering the call for help in the matter of providing temporary storage space for waste paper. Today 11 volunteers have offered space, Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger says, with the seventh ward out in front in the number of volunteers. At least one storage room is available for each precinct in the seventh ward. If the balance of the city hit this percentage, there will be forty-two and the seven fine houses.

If you have a garage, an outbuilding or a sheltered porch you are willing to let the paper collectors use, call 4221-J. The first day of waste paper collection is on January 29th which is next Saturday.
